

Approved For Release 2001/08/01 : CIA-RDP75-00001R000100170054-0
 TIME

CPYRGHT
 CPYRGHT

With so many of their number already in Washington, Harvardmen knew where to look for their next alumni association president, elected CIA Deputy Director Robert Amory Jr., 46. A tough-minded law professor at his alma mater (36) and a member of the top school committee, the Harvard Law School, he went to work in the planned obscurity of Bullesville in the '50s, left the limelight to his Brahmin Boswell Brother, Cleveland (Who Killed Society?) Amory.